

「Love in Chaoyang, My Experience of Study in Taiwan」

As a Malaysian student pursuing Communication in Arts, my experience of studying at Chaoyang University of Technology in Taiwan has been life-changing. I have had the opportunity to learn from world-class educators, connect with students from different cultures, and explore a country rich in history and tradition.

One of the first things that struck me when I arrived at Chaoyang University of Technology was the level of dedication and enthusiasm of the faculty members. Their passion for teaching was infectious, and it made me feel like I was part of a community that was invested in my success. I was also impressed by the level of resources and technology available to us as students. The university provided us with state-of-the-art equipment and facilities that helped us excel in our studies.

Another thing that has made my experience at Chaoyang University of Technology special is the diverse student population. Students from all over the world come to study here, which has provided me with the opportunity to connect with people from different cultures and backgrounds. I have made friends from Mongolia, Vietnam, Hong Kong, and many other countries, and it has been fascinating to learn about their experiences and perspectives.

One of the highlights of my time at Chaoyang University of Technology has been the opportunity to work as a filmmaker. As a filmmaking major, I have had the chance to use state-of-the-art film camera equipment such as the Sony FS7. The quality of the image produced is stunning, just like in the movies. It has been my dream to work in the film industry, and being a student at Chaoyang University of Technology has given me this opportunity that I may not have had back in Malaysia.

Moreover, my experience of studying in Taiwan has not just been limited to academics. I have also had the opportunity to explore the beauty and culture of this amazing country. Taiwan is rich in history, and I have been lucky enough to visit some of its most iconic landmarks, such as Taipei 101, the National Palace Museum, and the Chiang Kai-shek Memorial Hall. I have also had the chance to try some of the delicious Taiwanese cuisine, such as beef noodle soup, bubble tea, and stinky tofu.

Perhaps the most rewarding part of my experience at Chaoyang University of Technology has been the personal growth that I have experienced. Studying abroad has challenged me to step out of my comfort zone, confront cultural differences, and become more independent. I have had to learn to navigate a new country, communicate in a foreign language, and adapt to a new way of life. But through it all, I have developed a sense of resilience, resourcefulness, and self-confidence that I know will serve me well in the future.

In conclusion, my experience of studying at Chaoyang University of Technology in Taiwan has been an amazing journey. I have had the opportunity to learn from exceptional educators, connect with students from diverse cultures, and explore a beautiful and fascinating country. This experience has broadened my horizons, challenged me to grow personally and academically, and given me memories that will last a lifetime. I am grateful for the opportunity to study in Taiwan and for the incredible experiences that have come with it.
